Orientation from directions: a synthetic calibration exercise

800-pixel focal length; fixed six-direction geometry; independent Gaussian centroid errors. Zero-noise recovery is at numerical precision.
No real stars, catalogue matching, false detections or hardware accuracy. The fitted rotation maps inertial directions into camera coordinates.